

ALL ELEMENTS

"We create a home. Compelling backdrops for every aspect of peoples' lives inspire us. This leads to a creative project from start to finish. We create personalized architecture resulting in a home that reflects how you live."

Kim Larson
(owner)

The name 'All Elements' is exactly that. The four elements that surround us in our environment on a daily basis; earth, air, fire and water. A home site will always be affected by these elements making it critical to acknowledge, appreciate and plan for. Unity is important in the design and build of a home. It is both an art and a science. To quote Frank Lloyd Wright "no home should be on a hill, it should be of the hill, belonging to it. Home and hill should live together, each happier for the other."

When All Elements set out on this journey they vowed to do things differently. Better. Their passion lays in doing it right the first time and providing their clients with personal attention and communication. Dedication to excellence in workmanship and disciplined project management capabilities deliver a unique experience that is a marked departure from the traditional model.

With careful and strategic planning during the project, minimizing problems and generating proactive solutions rather than reactive ones is a standard. All Elements thrives on the challenge. They have worked on the most exceptional residences in the Valley. Skilled at developing projects with 'impossible' sites, budgets and structural parameters, while meeting the goals of diverse clients; All Elements will work with you to create solutions and a plan to make your dream home a reality.

The team at All Elements are dedicated to a collaborative experience. Their mission is to provide a pleasurable, forward thinking experience for everyone working with them. Understanding the importance of creating a positive working environment they strive to overcome obstacles and meet deadlines leading by example as a way to motivate others. At All Elements it is understood that teamwork is the foundation of a great experience built on fairness, respect and trust. The people involved in the day to day at your home are critical to the success of each project.

Constantly striving for new and creative ways to create a home that makes people talk...and think. The folks at All Elements vow to reflect on every aspect of the final product before they even break ground ensuring success not only aesthetically but financially for their clients.

Driven to take something that people look at in a common way and make it unique; All Elements wants to present it in a different light. As Kim designs and manages the creation of a dream home for her clients, she wants it to reflect the client, their needs, their desires, and most importantly she is dedicated to creating a home that stands apart from the rest.

The people at All Elements understand clients that desire to build private, luxury residences, and the need to ensure a unique product, while handling affairs with the upmost discretion.

Watch for the All Elements show home starting construction this year at Sheerwater.

KIM LARSON (Owner & Project Manager)

Kim began working in local architecture firms at the age of 14 to obtain college work experience. She enrolled in university in California where she completed her degree in Architectural Technology in 1999 with an additional certificate in AutoCAD Technology and a minor in Interior Design. Following her graduation she worked in California, Vancouver, and Australia before coming home to the Okanagan in order to pursue project management for the various commercial, institutional, residential projects, before establishing All Elements. Her passion for and devotion to luxury residential has led to many years building the highest quality homes for diverse local and international clients.

STEPHAN ARMS

Stephan is a Journeyman Carpenter with over 19 years experience building custom homes throughout the Okanagan Valley. Stephan has a passion for creating practical yet esthetically pleasing details on every home he touches. He is very dedicated and detail oriented, constantly coming up with new ideas to take your project to the next level. He truly treats your home as if it is his own, taking great pride in his work and ensuring the final product is beautiful down to the last detail. There is no task large enough and no challenge he'll shy away from.

KIM LARSON
 ARCHITECTURAL TECHNOLOGIST
 PROJECT MANAGER

(250.486.7679)
 ALLELEMENTS@SHAW.CA
 KELOWNA BC